PROFILE

Professional Profile

Dubem Nwokike is a technology entrepreneur, founder, business executive and software engineer with over a decade of experience working across technology, digital innovation and product development.

He operates at the intersection of technology and entrepreneurship, combining hands-on engineering expertise with business strategy, product thinking and organisational leadership. His work spans the creation of digital platforms, software solutions, technology infrastructure and businesses designed to solve practical problems and create lasting value.

As a founder and executive, Dubem has been involved in establishing and leading ventures across technology, media, digital finance, energy and real estate. His approach brings together technical execution, strategic thinking and an understanding of how technology can enable businesses, improve operations and unlock new opportunities.

His technical interests include artificial intelligence, blockchain, software architecture, digital infrastructure, automation and emerging technologies. Beyond writing code, he is particularly interested in turning ideas into functional products, building capable teams and creating sustainable technology-driven businesses.

PHILOSOPHY

Professional Philosophy

Technology should be more than a collection of tools and products. It should be an instrument for solving problems, creating opportunities and building systems that make businesses and everyday life better.

His philosophy is centred on three principles:

01

Build

Turn ideas into practical products, platforms and businesses.

02

Create

Apply technology, creativity and strategic thinking to solve meaningful problems.

03

Scale

Develop sustainable systems, teams and infrastructure capable of supporting long-term growth.
